

DOES YOUR BOY—M. GUTMAN & CO.

DOES YOUR BOY

Need a Suit?

If he does we can please him, and at the same time make your dollars go farther, and do more work, than at any other store in town.

We have many broken lots in Winter Suits for boys and children that we are selling at about half their value. Good goods and new styles, but some sizes missing. They must be sold, and the prices we have put on them will make them go, and go fast.

Don't put it off, but come before the best ones are all gone.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS—D. GUNDLING & CO.

BARGAINS....

Such as we are offering in Winter Suits and Overcoats are worth a hunt to find. Luckily, there's no need for a hunt, as we throw them in your way. Of course our figures can be duplicated elsewhere if you buy inferior goods that would be dear at half the price. Our Suits fit. Our Suits wear. Our Suits are well made, stylish and handsome. So are our Overcoats. That's why it's a bargain with emphasis to get our $10 Suits, reduced from $12.50 and $15. We have to make room for new Spring Goods—hence a general reduction all along the line; every purchase entitles you to a guess at the big candle in our west window.

ARION CARNIVAL

And Masquerade Ball Last Evening a Brilliant Success.

MOST BRILLIANT COSTUMING

Ever seen in the building on a similar occasion, and the affair was one of the finest social events ever seen in Wheeling—Several Entirely New Features were Introduced on this Occasion.

Last evening the Arion society gave its annual carnival and masquerade. It was in every respect one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind ever given in the city. There was an unusually large attendance, the hacks being kept busy throughout the early part of the evening. A handsome canvas canopy was arranged at the Twelfth street entrance to the club house, and there was a constant stream of arrivals up till somewhat after the time set for the march into the festival hall. "Punk 8 o'clock." The affair was in charge of a general committee composed of Messrs. H. C. Meyer, C. W. Kreiter, Carl Goetz, George Ebeling, P. Bonenberger, Jr., F. J. Diegmiller, Andrew Seifert, Joseph Hoffmann, Chris. Veltweg, Jr., Louis Colman, Jr., Charles Schmidt, H. P. Behrens, William Bowman, Charles Woeber, Clem. Hess, John Roth, William Wendel, John Miller.

The rule requiring all present to be in costume was rigidly adhered to. Many of the costumes exceeded in elaborateness and originality anything ever seen in a mask ball in Wheeling. The music was of course, by the Opera House orchestra, and Professor Spell's musicians never gave better satisfaction than on this occasion.

The grand march into the hall was led by the prince of the carnival (Mr. Henry Stifel) and after an introductory address by him, the by open. At 9 p. m. there was a cake walk, a decided novelty for the Arion. The cake was won by Mr. Ben Kraus and Miss Mary Stifel. At 11 p. m. a "champagne dance," another entirely new thing, was given.

The costumes were a subject of very general comment. There were the three guardsmen, Othello, eight hussars in red, several in black, clowns, gypsies and others commonly seen, but all the costumes were new, bright and artistic. The rooms were all decorated in black and gold, and the event will long be kept in memory as one of the greatest successes ever given by the Arion.

ITS FOURTH ANNIVERSARY.

Appropriate Celebration Last Night by the German Veterans.

Last evening the German Veteran Association celebrated the fourth anniversary of its organization at its hall on Main street in the Fifth ward, the old headquarters of the Young Men's Democratic Club. The hall was crowded on hand, made up of members and their families, with a few invited friends. The society is composed of ex-soldiers in the German wars as well as old soldiers in either American army of German ancestry, and is unique in its way.

There was a very pleasing programme. Dr. C. F. Ulrich made the formal address, which was eloquent and appropriate, and was received with the heartiest applause. There were several musical numbers rendered, one which won special favor being "The Jolly Court Scene," in which a trio sings the parts. After the programme dancing was in order until a late hour.

ACADEMY OF SCIENCE.

The Fourteenth Regular Meeting to be Held at Morgantown.

The Fourteenth regular meeting of the West Virginia Academy of Science will be held at the experiment station, Morgantown, W. Va., this evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

This session will be devoted to the discussion of forest preservation, as a means of protecting the sources of rivers, and of providing adequate and healthful water supply in springs, streams and public reservoirs.

The meeting will be open to the public and every one interested in the subjects mentioned is hereby invited to attend and take part in the discussions. Following is the programme:

Importance of Forests for Protection of Water Supply—Prof. L. C. Corbett.
A Movement in the Interest of Forest Preservation in the Middle Alleghenies, and the Need of Preliminary Investigation, by the President.
Resolutions with reference to the necessity of forest reservations and policies of municipal forest management.
A. D. HOPKINS, President.
W. E. RUMSEY, Secretary.

Anniversary Celebration.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will be celebrated by a meeting to be held in the lecture room at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Interesting reminiscences of the early history of the society and of those connected with it at the beginning will be given by some of the present members. Mrs. Ewing, of India, one of the faithful and successful missionary workers, will make an address and also sing. The meeting will be a profitable and popular one, and will close with a half hour of pleasant social intercourse. All the women of all churches are cordially invited.

"The Fencing Master."

At the Opera House this evening DeKoven & Smith's very popular opera, "The Fencing Master," will be the attraction. The "Fencing Master" is an opera comique of the highest order. Its record of successes throughout the country is beyond comparison. At the Casino, in New York, its patronage exceeded even that of "Erminie." At the Hollis Street Theatre, in Boston, the same enthusiasm characterized its reception. Among able critics the opera, which is now nearing its seventh hundred performance, is considered the masterpiece of DeKoven & Smith's genius. Many musicians of note have remarked that it will live to please music-loving audiences when all his other works are forgotten. In fact, Paderewski expressed this opinion on hearing the opera during its long run at the New York Casino.

"Faust" To-morrow Night.

John Griffith's "Faust" ought to and doubtless will draw well to-morrow night at the Opera House. It is Sir Henry Irving's version of the immortal story which Mr. Griffith presents and his presentation of it is at times more thrilling and more apparently real than that of the great master. He has not the blood-curdling laugh of Henry Irving, but his powers of declamation are as great or greater, and he has a fine conception of the character.

The "Monongah Route," the Monongahela river railroad, is coming into gear and will be the most direct route between Wheeling and Clarksburg and to points on the West Virginia & Pittsburgh railroad, including Weston, Bushannon, Sutton and Camden-on-Cauley.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 31 Mill st., South Gardner, Mass., was told by his doctors. His son had lung trouble following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work as a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for lung trouble. Trial bottles free at Logan Drug Co.'s Drug Store.

A BLIND AUTHOR.

Prof. Rudolph Leonhart, the Author and Poet, in the City.

Prof. Rudolph Leonhart, brother-in-law of the late Edmund Bocking, of this city, is in Wheeling, to introduce his last and best work, entitled "Attonement, or Fallen and Risen," which treats on the social evils in the spirit of reform, and has created quite a sensation in literary circles. In the short time of three months Professor Leonhart has disposed of over 1,300 copies, and this is no wonder, for besides the intrinsic value of his novel, he awards six premiums to every subscriber, namely, three musical compositions of his own for the piano, a poem of forty pages entitled "An Awakening," and two novelettes, all his own work and as meritorious as the larger work in their way.

The book contains 266 pages, is neatly bound in cloth, and sells at the low price of $1, the premiums going gratis, as a matter of course. Prof. Leonhart is well known in Wheeling, and we bespeak for him the liberal patronage which he deserves.

THE SNOW ORDINANCE.

A Citizen who Thinks There are Others to Enforce.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR:—Please allow me to ask through your columns, for what purpose the board of public works advertises its intention to enforce certain ordinances and continues to wink at their infringement? A year or more ago it threatened to enforce the ordinance in regard to awnings, and obstructing the sidewalks with merchandise; yet nothing was done, and it is well known that there are many awnings in the business part of the town under which a man not more than five feet four inches tall, cannot walk without knocking his hat off, unless he stoops, and almost every day in the week passers-by must cross over to the north side of Fourteenth street if they want to go from Market to Main streets.

And now comes this board of public works and threatens the people with the enforcement of the ordinance in regard to clearing the sidewalks of snow and ice. Those of us who always obey this ordinance wonder why it is not enforced in some notorious instances. One case I will mention, as it interests a good many law-abiding citizens. The pavement in front and on the side of the Peck property on the corner of Fourteenth and Chapline streets is never cleaned, either of snow or anything else, and is a constant disgrace to those occupying the building, and a nuisance to foot passengers. There's a job for you, most noble board of public works.
